DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-7, 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Applicants claim 1 appears to be drawn to the embodiment shown in figure 2-3, however the disclosure does not provide for member 40 to be transparent as claimed, therefore this presents new matter. Furthermore it appears that the member 40 would in no way protect/cover the second surface of the name tag nor display the second surface. Claim 8 appears to be drawn to the embodiment shown in figure 4, however there is no teaching that the transparent sleeve is attached to the bottom surface of the body as currently claimed. Claim 13 appears to be drawn to the embodiment shown in figures 5-6 however the disclosure does not provide for any sort of transparent sleeve as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1, 3-10, 12-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Longo et al '449. Longo discloses a device which teaches most of the claim elements including a body (10) having a top surface (22) and a bottom surface (back of surface 22 including member 20) including magnetic material (20), the body defining a frame around an aperture (figures 1 and 2, 14a), educational information (read onto writing 17), a replaceable name tag (read onto picture 16 as it identifies an individual). Educational information of a name tag being presented on a second surface as required by claims 1 and 5-6 is read onto the picture on member 16 (as shown in figures 1 and 2) since it educates about the owner/user of the device. A transparent sleeve as required by claims 1, 8 and 13 is read onto member 15. Limitations of claim 3 are shown as reading material 17 in figures 1 and 2. Limitations of claim 7 are shown in figures 1 and 2 as writing 17 is disposed in the upper and lower regions of surface 22. Limitations of claim 14 are encompassed by member 10 as his designs 17 are associated with a driving school.

Longo fails to explicitly teach that his member 16 is comprised of a paper medium, however it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time of the claimed invention, to have provided member 16 comprised of a paper medium since pictured are notoriously well known to be placed on a paper substrate for processing and cost reasons.

Regarding limitations of claims 4, 9 and 14-16, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the claimed invention to include matching decorative designs on member 16 and surface 22 and/or where the design are associated with a school since it would only depend on the intended use of the assembly and the desired information to be displayed. Further, it has been held that when the claimed printed matter is not functionally related to the substrate it will not distinguish the invention from the prior art in terms of patentability. In re Gulack 217 USPQ 401, (CAFC 1983) and In re Ngai, 367 F.3d 1336, 70 USPQ2d 1862. The fact that the content of the printed matter placed on the substrate may render the device more convenient by providing an individual with a specific type of matching decorative design does not alter the functional relationship. Mere support by the substrate for the printed matter is not the kind of functional relationship necessary for patentability. Thus, there is no novel and unobvious functional relationship between the printed matter decorative designs and the substrate name tag and body which is required for patentability. It should be further noted that the decorative designs are considered a design choice in that there is no criticality or advantage to having them disclosed by the applicants.

Regarding claim 10, lacking any clear distinguishing claimed elements a second name tag region is read onto the side of member 10 by wall 14.

With respect to claim 12, it would have been obvious to include a second aperture and sleeve for the purpose of identifying a second person (such as another family member), since it has been held that mere duplication of essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. ST Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis CO., 193 USPQ 8.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
